TestBank Remote Work and VPN Guide

Version 2.0 | Owner: IT Infrastructure Team | Effective: 1 January 2026

1. Who can work remotely

Employees may work remotely up to 3 days per week with their manager's approval. New employees must work from the office for their first 4 weeks. Remote work arrangements are recorded in the HR system by your manager.

2. Connecting to the VPN

The VPN (TB Connect) is required to access internal systems such as the IT Portal, file shares and the finance system from outside the office. To connect: open the TB Connect app, sign in with your work email, and approve the request in the Microsoft Authenticator app on your phone. The VPN disconnects automatically after 12 hours. Reconnect if needed.

3. VPN troubleshooting

If the VPN does not connect: (1) check that your internet connection works by opening a public website; (2) restart the TB Connect app; (3) restart your laptop; (4) make sure the Authenticator app on your phone has notifications enabled. If it still fails, raise a ticket on the IT Portal from another device, or call extension 4357. Include a screenshot of the error message.

4. Home working setup

Your home internet connection should provide at least 20 Mbps download speed for video calls. Use a private, password-protected home Wi-Fi network. Change the default password on your home router. Do not let family members or visitors use your company laptop.

5. Public Wi-Fi and working in public places

Public Wi-Fi (cafes, hotels, airports) may only be used with the VPN connected at all times. Do not discuss Confidential or Restricted information in public places where you can be overheard, and use a privacy screen filter when working on trains or in cafes. Privacy filters can be requested from IT free of charge.

6. Printing at home

Printing Confidential or Restricted documents at home is not allowed. Internal documents may be printed at home only if they are shredded after use.

7. Working from another country

Working from outside Japan requires approval from your manager, HR and IT at least 2 weeks in advance, because of tax, legal and security rules. Some countries block VPN connections. IT will confirm whether the VPN can be used in your destination before approval.
